One Stone Launches Treefort Trailblazers, a New Opportunity for Treasure Valley Students

The program will make Treefort accessible to 25 high school students

BOISE, IDAHO-- February 19, 2020 -- One Stone, a student-led nonprofit, has launched a new opportunity in partnership with Treefort Music Fest for 25 high school students to experience Idaho's biggest and most diverse music festival at no cost.

The new program, Treefort Trailblazers, is for students who might not otherwise have the chance to experience Treefort and explore the wide variety of concerts and cultural events it offers. Each student will receive a five-day U21 pass valued at $125 and a one-day hosted Treefort experience.

"This experience is for music-loving high schoolers who live outside of downtown Boise, particularly in Caldwell, Meridian, and Nampa, who may not be able to get to Treefort on their own," said Bria Eaton, the student lead of the project. "Kids of all backgrounds and walks of life are encouraged to apply; it's a chance for people who've never gone to Treefort to see what it's all about."

In addition to a five-day wristband, One Stone will host the Treefort Trailblazers for a tailored festival experience. On Friday, March 27, during the festival, One Stone will host second chance shows featuring Treefort performers. One Stone will provide each Treefort Trailblazer with transportation to and from One Stone, meals, and Treefort activities throughout this one-day event.

Those interested in applying to be a Trailblazer, please visit <https://onestone.org/treefort-trailblazers>. One Stone is accepting applicants in two waves; wave one is open until Tuesday, February 25, and wave two is open February 26 through Friday, March 13.

“I had never heard of Treefort until my English teacher told me about this opportunity,” said Fabian, a high schooler and applicant from Caldwell. “I’d love the chance to experience all different types of music.”

Treefort Music Fest is March 25-29, 2020. For more information on Treefort visit <https://www.treefortmusicfest.com>. For more information on One Stone, visit <https://onestone.org>.
