THE BIG COMEBACK: TREEFORT MUSIC FEST RETURNS

BOISE, IDAHO — April 8, 2021 — Treefort Music Fest has announced its return to downtown Boise, Idaho — and it's coming back with a double whammy.

Treefort Music Fest postponed its ninth annual festival back in March 2020 in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Today, the festival announced its big comeback with Treefort 9 set for September 22-26, 2021 in multiple venues throughout downtown Boise. Treefort is typically held in March and the festival plans to return to its spring schedule. The five-day emerging arts fest plans to hold the 10th edition of Treefort Music Fest on March 23-27, 2022 — just six months after Treefort 9 in September 2021.

Fans of Treefort Music Fest can expect a few changes at the 2021 festival, though many Treefort favorites will remain. Treefort will announce a resurrected Treefort 9 lineup later this month. The forts of the fest will also return, though many will look and operate a little differently this year than in the past.

Health & Safety

Safety is always a top priority for Treefort Music Fest. Treefort is continuing to work closely with local and state health officials to determine health and safety measures for the upcoming festival. The festival is making plans A, B, D, C, and even F for a safe community-run festival in September. Treefort will make announcements in the coming months regarding what to expect at Treefort 9.

Festival Passes

In order to abide by possible capacity limitations, a limited number of five-day passes will be available for Treefort 9. General admission, ZIPLINE, and U21 tickets will go on sale with the lineup announcement later this month. Kids age 12 and under are free, accompanied by an adult passholder. At this time, there will be no single-day, single-venue, or single-show tickets available for Treefort 9. Treefort ticket information can be found at treefortmusicfest.com/tickets.

Owners-Only Passes

More than 900 fans are now part-owners of Treefort Music Fest. Last summer, Treefort launched a crowdfunding campaign via WeFunder to help the fest survive the months of uncertainty ahead. More than 900 fans contributed nearly $350,000, which went directly to making the festival happen this year. Treefort Music Fest is forever grateful for the support and proud to be the first fan-owned and operated music festival. One perk of becoming a Community Owner is early access to festival passes, which are on sale now.
